

'THE COWBOY'

MATT IS SIMPLE, CONFIDENT & TOUGH, NO NONSENSE PLAYER FROM THE LITTLE COUNTRY TOWN OF PORT LINCOLN IN SA. WILL HIS OVER THE TOP CONFIDENCE & COMPETITIVE STREAK GIVE HIM THE EDGE? OF COURSE HE THINKS SO...

NAME: Matthew Heath

ADDRESS: PT Lincoln SA

DOB: 16/10/83, Aged 25

OCCUPATION: Builder

Work history:

Matthew left school at age 17 to work in a fish factory, filleting fish, however ended up doing most of the maintenance and repairs for the business which was much more up his alley. Matt then began a carpentry apprenticeship with his father, which changed the family business somewhat since they had to find more building work to accommodate the skills Matt needed to acquire for the apprenticeship. Before this, the business was mainly repairs, painting, rendering, modifications for the disable and renovations.

After completing his apprenticeship, Matthew went to Alice Springs to work with his brother, Jarrod, in the construction/render/painting business, occasionally returning to Port Lincoln for work. Matthew then moved to Adelaide, where he met the love of his life, fiancée Chelsea, and set up his business 'Heathy's Rock Solid Construction'. Matthew was particularly proud, after his first ever apprentice, Mark Pierce became the HIA Carpentry Apprenticeship of the year in 2007. This year, Matt and his fiancée have moved to Port Lincoln to be part of a new family venture, building new homes throughout the Eyre Peninsula.

Best Project:

It was a renovation, inside and out, of a one hundred year old house in Adelaide and we ripped out all the interior ceilings and re framed them 500mm lower and gyped and flushed including solid cornice 125mm. We also replaced all the skirtings and architrave.
