

Flash of brilliance

To counter the neutral aluminium and dramatic black of the cabinetry in this kitchen, the designer specified a vivid splashback in Resene Grenadier

Injecting the wow factor into a kitchen can be as simple as adding a bold colour accent, or pairing interesting materials.

This kitchen, designed by Gary Todd of Gary Todd Architecture, does both. Sleek, aluminium cabinetry is contrasted by an island painted in high-gloss Resene Black, and a vivid orange splashback in Resene Grenadier. This flash of colour is exposed when the cabinetry doors are opened to reveal the cooking centre.

The cabinetry is offset by light-toned walls painted in Resene Sea Fog – a slightly grey white from The Range Whites & Neutrals fandeck.

Resene SpaceCote Low Sheen Kitchen & Bathroom is the recommended paint type for kitchens and bathrooms. Resene marketing manager Karen Warman says this waterborne, low-odour, Environmental Choice-approved paint provides a durable, washable finish. And because it is formulated with anti-bacterial silver and MoulDefender, it provides protection against bacteria and mould.

Resene SpaceCote Low Sheen is also ideal for renovation projects as its reduced sheen minimises surface imperfections.

For more information, visit a Resene ColorShop, or freephone 0800 RESENE (737 363). Website: www.resene.co.nz.

See additional Resene stories online at Trendsideas.com/go/25828a

Above: Walls in this house, designed by Gary Todd, are painted in Resene Sea Fog. The aluminium cabinetry opens to reveal a bright orange splashback in Resene Grenadier.