

fashion colour - design - future - seminar

Neil Henson combines these thought provoking topics in two hour seminars brought exclusively to you by Resene.

Trends - what's hatching in the future?
fashion trends, colour trends, making trends work for you, residential and commercial

Presented by Neil Henson, Fashion Bytes Australia, who is making a special trip to New Zealand to share his insights with us. Neil has extensive experience in the design field with expertise spanning trends decoding, consultancy services to companies working on new products and colour ranges, and a busy schedule as an international professional speaker.
