

GREAT EFFECT

Why have a plain wall when you can have one that not only includes a selection of your favourite Resene paint colours, but combines them in a layered effect to give your wall an old-world patina.

We live in a country that is relatively young and even our most traditional homes would be considered new in many overseas destinations, but that doesn't mean we need to miss out on the beautiful, aged finishes that we lust over when we are travelling.

It's easy to create a limewashed, mottled, plaster, concrete, rag-rolled or other favourite paint effect with Eco

LAYER UP

An interesting interior is one that features many different textures, including on the walls, like this layered effect using Resene FX Paint Effects Medium and tonal Resene colours. Chair and cup from Good Form, votive and small vase from Smith & Caughey's.

Choice-approved Resene FX Paint Effects Medium. Simply apply your chosen Resene basecoat colour, then mix another Resene colour into Resene FX Paint Effects Medium and brush, sponge or rag-roll it on. Mix additional Resene colours into Resene FX Paint Effects Medium to add extra highlights, lowlights and complexity to your effect, to suit the style and palette you're seeking.

The options for the looks you can create with Resene FX Paint Effects Medium are practically limitless. It can also be layered with other Resene decorative effects to create paint effects on walls, floors, ceilings, furniture, joinery and more, inside and out.

And it's easy to paint over or refresh later if you decide you want a change.

For those working with less than perfect surfaces, paint effects can help to hide imperfections and even add to the beauty of the finished effect.
